

The AT&T COTTON BOWL CLASSIC is celebrating in a BIG way. After 73 grand years of distinguishing itself as one of the premiere college bowl games, the Cotton Bowl is moving to the brand new, 1.2 billion dollar, DALLAS COWBOYS STADIUM. This will certainly place the AT&T Cotton Bowl at the top of the list for the teams, fans and, performers, who want to experience college football at its very best. Start your New Year off right by joining National Events at the Nationally televised AT&T Cotton Bowl Classic on Fox television where your band will perform at the halftime show finale on January 2nd, 2010. Compete in the National Events Cotton Bowl Field Show Contest where the winning band will perform their own show during the pre-game spectacular. The AT&T Cotton Bowl plays host to highly ranked teams from the nation's premier conferences, the Big XII and the SEC.

HALFTIME SHOW – This year will be a huge celebration as the Cotton Bowl changes venues for the first time in 74 years! Be part of this magnificent gala with music, fireworks, and balloons as you perform along with the nationally renowned Kilgore Rangerettes in an exciting mass band halftime finale for nearly 80,000 fans!

NATIONAL AT&T COTTON BOWL MUSIC FESTIVAL

National Events offers a festival including adjudication and clinics for:
CONCERT BAND – FIELD SHOW – JAZZ BAND – PARADE

TELEVISED NEW YEAR'S PARADE – STREAMED LIVE OVER THE INTERNET

National AT&T Cotton Bowl Music Festival participants also will perform for tens of thousands of spectators lining the streets of Downtown Dallas for the annual Comerica Bank New Year's Parade – one of the largest New Year's events in the Great Southwest. The televised family-friendly parade features the two university bands, the world-famous Kilgore College Rangerettes, floats, VIPs, specialty entries celebrating Texas, and our high school band participants from across the country.

ATTRACTIONS

The DFW Metroplex has many exciting attractions that can easily be added to your custom tour, including the original Six Flags (Over Texas), a must for thrill seekers, travel to the past at Medieval Times, and the Sixth Floor Museum – which provides an unforgettable history lesson concerning the JFK assassination and world events from the early 1960's.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

Celebrate New Year's Eve at World Famous South Fork Ranch complete with an Awards Ceremony, Dinner and Dance. Here you will tour JR's Mansion from the hit super series "DALLAS".
